2008 Round Table Conference April 18, 2008

Please join us in a community-wide effort to reduce domestic violence in Indianapolis.

Domestic violence often occurs in a predictable pattern. If that pattern is recognized, and those involved seek help from community resources, it is possible to prevent an unfortunate tragedy.

Faith leaders have the unique potential to educate and influence the community.
Please learn more about the important role you play in helping families at risk of violence.

Who should attend?

Religious leaders of all faith traditions including:
ministers, youth pastors, education directors,
parish nurses, counselors and lay ministers.

In Indiana last year, 79 individuals died as a direct result of domestic violence.

Almost 10,000 women and children spent over 160,000 days in an emergency shelter resulting from a domestic altercation.

Meeting objectives include:

- o Describe the impact of domestic violence on family and community.
- o Discuss faith-based interventions for domestic violence.
- o Explain the impact of cultural differences on domestic violence.
- o Learn about resources for batterers and victims of domestic violence.
